Manager comments

April was characterised by strong volatility. The announcement, on April, 2, of reciprocal tariffs promoted a movement of aversion to USD assets. Under pressure from markets poor performance and domestic criticism, Trump backed down and paused the tariffs for 90 days, bringing some relief. But the ECB's rate cut served as a pretext for questioning the independence of the Federal Reserve, adding, once again, risk and uncertainty. In a new volte-face, he secured Jerome Powell's job, which allowed the stock market to recover and also halted the devaluation of the US dollar and government debt.

What helped the Fund:

Cash, Governments, Corporate Debt and European Equities

What harmed the Fund:

Emerging Market Debt, Equities ex-Europe and Precious Metals

Perspectives for the Fund:

Duration positioning has not changed, with Euro interest rate exposure remaining neutral, while USD duration remains underweight, given fears of tariffs impact on inflation. The recovery in the equity markets has been used to reduce exposure to the North American market to neutral, in favour of a bet on European indices, where we have greater visibility. An economic recession is not our main scenario, and as such we maintain overexposure to equities, but Donald Trump's unpredictability is a permanent factor of uncertainty, a kind of risk we want to limit.
